Santa Cruz Neighborhoods

UPPER WESTSIDE: A residential and quiet section of town near the base of the UCSC campus. The main streets are Western Drive, Bay Drive, and High Street. Off-campus student rentals are readily available throughout Upper Westside.

MISSION STREET: The busy Mission Street divides Upper and Lower Westside and offers consistently busy food favorites. Several restaurants, grocery stores, and shops are also along this street.

LOWER WESTSIDE AND CIRCLES: A mix of residential and business areas located near West Cliff Drive, Natural Bridges, and Steamer’s Lane. West Cliff is a perfect example of where students, locals, and tourists mingle without anyone taking much notice.

DOWNTOWN: There’s hardly an undiscovered spot on Pacific Avenue, and so downtown lies at the center of most students’ radars. Students living in this area enjoy the nearby convenience of the Santa Cruz Metro, shops, grocery stores, and movie theaters.

BEACH HILL: Adjacent to the Beach Flats neighborhood and the Boardwalk, with the ocean and downtown each a short walk away. Beach Hill is a mix of residences and hotels, and many students choose to live in this area. In the summer months, however, it does become crowded with tourists.

MIDTOWN: Once you pass downtown and cross the San Lorenzo River, you’re in midtown territory. Soquel Avenue offers a bevy of good local eats, as well as three grocery stores to get your supplies. There are also good local music and entertainment venues.

BANANA BELT: Named for its warmer temperatures than the neighborhoods closer to the ocean, the Banana Belt is popular with families and locals.

SEABRIGHT: Straight across from the Rio Theatre lies Seabright, which boasts a friendly neighborhood vibe and one of Santa Cruz’s most popular sandy beaches.

TWIN LAKES AND LIVE OAK: Just past the Santa Cruz Harbor is the lesser-known east side of town, which has a decidedly more local and less student-driven vibe. The area is home to several stores and less-crowded beaches, such as Twin Lakes and 26th Avenue.

EASTSIDE AND CAPITOLA: If you like Live Oak’s change of pace and opportunities to interact with someone other than UCSC students and the people on Pacific Avenue, Eastside and Capitola offer yet another mellow antidote to downtown. The area is home to 41st Avenue and Capitola Village, and is also where you’ll find the legendary surf spots at Pleasure Point.

Visa Information

Your SEVIS I-20 or DS-2019

Once you have been admitted to UC Santa Cruz, IEO will issue you a certificate of eligibility. For F-1 students, this will be an I-20. J-1 students will receive a DS-2019. You will use the I-20 or DS-2019 to apply for your visa to enter the U.S. Avoid scheduling your visa interview or your travel into the U.S. until after you have received your I-20 or DS-2019.

Your SEVIS ID Number

Every student and any dependents they may have receive a unique SEVIS ID number for their program in the U.S. Your SEVIS ID number will be printed on your I-20 (in the top-left corner) or your DS-2019 (in the top-right corner).

The I-901 SEVIS Fee

Information about F-1 and J-1 international students and their dependents is collected in a database named the “Student Exchange Visitor Information System” (SEVIS). All students who have an I-20 issued for ‘initial attendance’ or a DS-2019 issued to ‘begin a new program’ must pay the SEVIS I-901 fee: $200 for F-1 students, $180 for J-1 students.

FAQ for I-901 SEVIS Fee

Students must pay this fee before applying for their F-1 or J-1 visa. Please pay the fee at least 3 business days before your visa interview.

Print a copy of the payment receipt and bring it with you to the consulate or embassy. You cannot pay the SEVIS fee at the consulate or embassy. You will also need this receipt when you arrive in the U.S. to show the Customs officer.

Applying for Your Visa

When to Apply: The visa application process can take up to 6-8 weeks to complete, so you should apply as soon as possible after receiving your I-20 or DS-2019. Visas can be issued up to 120 days before the program start date.

Find Your U.S. Embassy or Consulate’s Website

Where to Apply: It is best to apply at a U.S. Embassy or Consulate in your home country, rather than in a third country. If visa services are not available in your country, it is best to apply in a country nearest your residence.

Look Up Processing & Appointment Wait Times

How to Apply: Each embassy and consulate has their own visa application procedures and instructions. Consult the embassy or consulate’s website for detailed information. However, in general, you will need to:

- Pay the I-901 SEVIS fee
- Complete the DS-160 visa application forms
- Pay any visa application fee(s)
- Provide an I-20 or DS-2019, valid passport, proof of financial support, SEVIS fee receipt, photos, and any other supporting documents you have.

Canadian citizens are exempt from applying for a student visa. However, you do need to pay the I-901 SEVIS fee before you enter the U.S.

Additional Visa Information

F-1 Student Visa

J-1 Exchange Visitor Visa
The University of California Regents require all UC Santa Cruz students be covered by a health insurance plan while attending the university.

All undergraduate and EAP Reciprocity students are automatically enrolled in and charged for University of California Student Health Insurance Plan (UCSHIP). All graduate students are automatically enrolled in the Graduate Student Health Insurance Plan (GSHIP).

UCSHIP/GSHIP gives you quick access to the Student Health Center on campus. For information about UCHSIP/GSHIP, including questions on adding dependents to your coverage, contact the UCSC Insurance Advocates:

Email: insure@ucsc.edu
Phone: (831) 459-2389

Have your own insurance?

UCSC has strict requirements for the insurance that students must have. If you feel you have sufficient, comparable coverage, you can request a waiver of UCHSIP/GSHIP. To apply for the waiver, please see:

https://studentinsurance.wellsfargo.com/~ucsc

J-1 and J-2 Insurance Coverage Requirements (effective May 15, 2015)

All students in J-1 and J-2 status must have health insurance that meets these minimum requirements from the Department of State:

- Medical benefits: at least $100,000;
- Repatriation of remains: at least $25,000;
- Medical evacuation: at least $50,000;
- Deductible: not to exceed $500;
- Covers pre-existing conditions after wait;
- Does not exceed a 25% co-pay by J-1 or J-2;
- Underwritten by insurance corporation that meets the rating requirements of the Department of State OR is backed by the full faith and credit of the J-1 or J-2’s government.

UC Immunization Requirements

UCSC mandates that all incoming students have the following immunizations:

- Tuberculosis (TB) Screening
- Hepatitis B
- Measles-Mumps-Rubella (MMR)
- Rubella Varicella (Chicken Pox)
- Meningococcal Meningitis
- Tetanus-Diphtheria-Pertussis (TDAP/dTAP)
- Polio Vaccine Primary Series

You must submit immunization records to the Student Health Center. Please use the Health e-Messenger:

What to Pack

Clothing
In general, you will find that students, faculty, and staff at U.S. universities dress more casually (blue jeans and shirts) than their counterparts in your home country. However, they do tend to dress more formally if they are going out to dinner or to a special event.

If you are coming from a tropical climate, you might find Santa Cruz’s weather a little chilly, especially from November to March. Most students find that they use a light jacket year-round and a heavier coat during the winter months. Past international students at University of California, Santa Cruz have reported that they wished they had brought more warm clothes with them.

Electronics
The U.S. uses an electrical current of 120 volts, and most electronic devices have a two-pronged plug that is different from the outlets in your home country. This means that your electronic devices (including your computer) will likely not work in the U.S. without an adapter/ converter. It’s a good idea to make sure you pack at least one of these to use when you first arrive. Odds are that your computer’s battery will die during your long journey. If you’re relying on your computer to communicate with friends and family back home, you might not be able to do so until you have an adapter.

Other Items
You will be able to purchase many items you need after you arrive in the U.S., but there are some things that you might want to bring with you for various reasons:

- Toiletries, especially items from your home country that you might not be able to find in the U.S.
- Bedding and/or bathing towels. Depending on where you stay when you first arrive, you may not have access to these items until you are able to purchase them. Note that if you will live on-campus, you will need extra-long twin sheet bedding.
- Camera. Don’t forget to bring any needed accessories, such as memory cards and chargers.
- Prescription medications. These must be in their original containers and should be no more than a 30-day personal supply. Make sure to carry a prescription or written statement from your physician.
- Prescription eyeglasses and/or contact lenses. Bring your prescription with you so you can have it filled in the U.S. Take sufficient quantities of contact lens solution, as well, since it may not be readily available.
Santa Cruz springs and summers are warm and slightly humid. Since we are by the ocean, our weather is cooler during the summer months than the San Jose area.

Be prepared for a good amount of rain and fog throughout fall and winter. It’s a good idea to have an umbrella and rain boots for the rainy Santa Cruz days.

Money Matters

Currency

In the United States, paper currency is issued in denominations of $1, $5, $10, $20, $50, and $100. Each bill is the same size and similar in color and design. Most people avoid carrying $50 and $100 bills, and some businesses will not accept bills higher than $20.

Coins are primarily issued in 1-, 5-, 10- and 25-cent denominations. These coins are known respectively as pennies, nickels, dimes, and quarters.

In order to determine the value of the goods and services you are paying for, you might find it helpful initially to convert the cost to your home country’s currency. One website where you can do so is XE (xe.com).

Money for Your Arrival

When you first arrive you will need enough money for immediate expenses, such as transportation, food, and temporary housing. Avoid carrying large sums of cash. Instead, consider using the following:

Traveler’s Checks
This form of money is available for exchange immediately if the checks are made in USD. Checks in a foreign currency may be subject to foreign exchange fees.

ATMs/Check Cards
You will be able to immediately withdraw cash from an ATM, which are available throughout the Bay Area and on the UCSC campus. There may be a daily withdrawal limit and can be a transaction fee is the ATM is not associated with your bank/credit union.

International Credit Cards
Money is available immediately, but some stores may not accept your credit card.

Wire Transfers
This is the safest way to transfer money. However, you will need to have a US bank account to deposit the money into, and some wire transfers will charge you a fee.

Foreign Currency Exchange

The United States and Santa Cruz in particular have fewer currency exchanges than in many countries. Using a debit card instead is highly recommended. However, if you would like to use a currency exchange, some locations are:

San Francisco International Airport (SFO)
Travelex America has several currency exchanges and automated machines throughout the International Terminal and in Terminal 3.

San Jose International Airport (SJC)
There are two locations for currency exchange. One is in Terminal A’s Baggage Claim area; another is in the International Building across from Gate 15.

Money Market

Santa Cruz, CA 95060
http://www.moneymarketcheckcashing.com/
If you want to open a U.S. bank account while you’re here, you have several options. In most cases, you will need to show your passport and your I-20 or DS-2019 to sign up for an account. Having your student ID may be helpful. You do not need a Social Security Number (SSN) or Individual Tax Identification Number (ITIN) to open an account.

Please note that our office does not endorse any of the following banks. Selecting a bank is your decision.

*Bay Federal, Bank of America, and Wells Fargo have ATMs by Baytree Bookstore. You can also use these ATMs even if you do not have an account with that bank or credit union, but you will be charged a fee.

If you have an account with Citi Bank, there are no branch locations in Santa Cruz. However, there are ATMs located in 7-Eleven Stores.
Telephone Services

There are a variety of mobile phone companies that operate in the Santa Cruz area. Monthly contracts and pay-as-you-go services are available with most companies. Students who are here for less than a year typically chose the pay-as-you-go services, as they often require less paperwork and are easier to cancel.

If you plan to get a U.S. phone number while you’re here, please contact the company to learn what you will need to bring to get a phone. Generally you will be asked to provide a valid photo ID (passport or driver’s license), your date of birth, and your local address. Most companies will ask you for your Social Security Number. This is not a requirement. If you do not have a Social Security Number you can still sign up for service, but you will often have to pay a deposit.

Before you sign any contract, make sure you meet the company’s requirements.

On-Campus Residences

All undergraduate students are affiliated with one of ten residential colleges at UCSC, regardless of whether you live on campus or not. Each college differs in academic focus, environment, location, architecture, and programming. During the admission process, you have the opportunity to list your college preference.

First-year undergraduate students are expected to live in campus housing. If you live on-campus, you will usually live at your assigned college’s dorms or apartments.

Other options for undergraduate students include the Porter Transfer Community in Porter, The Village, Redwood Grove Apartments, the University Town Center, the Camper Park, or Family Student Housing. The International Living Center (ILC), whose residents are 50% international students and 50% American students, is also an extremely popular option.

Graduate students have very limited university housing options: Graduate Student Housing or Family Student Housing. These apartments are located on the west side of the UCSC campus, and require an application through the UCSC Housing Office.

Questions about the residential colleges or applying for housing? Talk to the Housing Office!

Email: housing@ucsc.edu

Living Off-Campus

Off-campus housing in Santa Cruz and the Bay Area is infamously expensive and difficult to find. Rents are high, and availability of housing is low. You are strongly encouraged to begin your housing search BEFORE you arrive in Santa Cruz. You are also encouraged to arrive as early as possible to look at housing in person.

The UCSC Community Rentals Office (CRO) is a resource center for UCSC students, faculty, and staff living off-campus in the Santa Cruz area. Not only do they have a database of rental listings, they also provide resources on completing a rental application, searching for roommates, and looking for housing.

Searching for Housing

If you choose to live off-campus, there are several websites that provide listings of apartments, rooms, and houses for rent in and around Santa Cruz.

UCSC Community Rentals Office Database

Craigslist

Apartment List

Rent Jungle

If you’re unable to find housing before you arrive, please make temporary arrangements at a local hotel. Be sure to ask if there is a UCSC student discount. The following sites list temporary housing options:

Santa Cruz Hotels

Santa Cruz Hostel

Rent Vocabulary. When searching listings, you may encounter abbreviations to describe the property. A few of the most common abbreviations are:

</table>
When can I arrive?

You can enter the U.S. up to 30 days ahead of the program start date listed on your I-20 or DS-2019. You will not be allowed to enter as an F-1 or J-1 student if you arrive earlier.

There are exceptions if you are a student transferring to UC Santa Cruz from another U.S. school/university. Talk to an ISSS advisor at istudent@ucsc.edu.

Document Checklist

You will need to present several documents to officials at the U.S. Port-of-Entry (POE):

- Original, signed UC Santa Cruz I-20 or DS-2019
- Passport, valid at least 6 months into the future
- Valid F-1 or J-1 visa (Canadian citizens exempt)
- I-901 SEVIS fee receipt

You must also be prepared to show the following:

- Proof of funding and financial support
- UC Santa Cruz admission/EAP selection letter
- Contact information for UCSC and IEO advisors

Do not pack these documents in checked luggage! You may be asked to provide any of the above documents, so it is advised you keep them in your carry-on luggage.

Remember that admission to the U.S. is always at the discretion of the U.S. Customs & Border Protection (CBP) officers. If you travel without complete documentation, you may not be allowed to enter the U.S.

Form I-515A Students who do not have sufficient documentation may be given a Form I-515A at the border and only 30-day admission to the United States. If you receive a Form I-515A, see an ISSS advisor immediately.

What to Expect at the Border

When you arrive in the United States, you will first go to immigration inspection where a U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officer will determine your admissibility into the United States.

The CBP officer will take your digital photograph and collect your digital fingerprints. They will also ask you to present your documents and ask questions about your travel. Questions you may be asked include:

- Why are you coming to the U.S.?
- How long will you be in the U.S.?
- Where will you be staying?
- What is your final destination?
- How will you support yourself financially while in the U.S.?

Be sure to tell the officer that you are traveling to the U.S. as an F-1 or J-1 student. Once finished, the CBP officer will give you a stamp in your passport with the date you arrived, your class of admission, and your admitted-until date. This should say “F-1 D/S” or “J-1 D/S.” “D/S” means “Duration of Status.” Check your stamp and do not leave the counter without this notation!

After immigration inspection, you will claim your luggage and then proceed through Customs. You will need to show another officer your completed Customs declaration, which is a form with several questions that you must respond to, such as:

- Are you carrying more than $10,000?
- Are you carrying fruits or vegetables?

Answer these questions honestly. If you lie and such items are found, the penalty is much greater.
Mandatory Check-In and Orientation

You should arrive on or before the report date listed on your I-20 or DS-2019. Arriving later than this date may cause you to miss orientation and/or classes, and in some cases may result in a late enrollment fee. IEO is required to report to SEVIS the arrival and enrollment of new students. Complete check-in with us within 15 days of the report date listed on your visa document. Failure to check in may result in the termination of your SEVIS record and loss of your F-1 or J-1 status.

Orientations

Freshmen Students

Summer Academy students’ check-in and International Orientation will be scheduled during your first week at UCSC. You will also be included in the general UCSC Summer Orientation, alongside other new students.

All other freshmen students must attend a 10-day International Orientation before the Fall quarter begins. Your check-in will be scheduled during the International Orientation.

Junior Transfer Students

Junior transfers are generally expected to have attended a UCSC Summer Orientation with other new students living in the United States. There is no specific International Orientation for junior transfers, but you will be required to attend an IEO Immigration Status presentation before the Fall quarter begins.

EAP Reciprocity Students

Incoming exchange students must attend a 2-day EAP International Orientation before the Fall quarter begins. You will be able to complete check-in before or during Orientation.

Graduate Students

Graduate students are expected to attend the campus’ Graduate Student Orientation, as well as their department’s orientation. There is no specific International Orientation for graduate students, but you will be required to attend an IEO Immigration Status presentation before Fall classes begin.* You will have the option to complete check-in either before or after the Fall quarter begins.

*Students in Games & Playable Media MS

Because Games & Playable Media MS is taught at the Silicon Valley Campus (SVC), students in this program will be required to attend a different IEO Immigration Status presentation that will be held at SVC.

Check-In

Step 1

After arriving in Santa Cruz, scan copies of the following documents:

- Passport biographical page
- F-1 or J-1 visa (Canadian citizens exempt)
- Port-of-Entry stamp, with date you arrived

Step 2

Update your residential address (where you will live while in the U.S.) in the MyUCSC portal. Make sure to select the “Residential” box.

Step 3

Report to IEO to complete check-in, or follow the specific instructions from the Orientation Office or IEO to submit your documents. See the Visa Check-In webpage for the most up-to-date information.

Step 4

An ISSS advisor will review your immigration documents for completeness and register your SEVIS record.

What will Orientation and the IEO presentation cover?

Orientation and the IEO presentation will give you valuable information regarding visa issues, immigration regulations, the UCSC campus, and resources in the community. It will also help you with adapting to your new environment.

More questions about International Orientation?

Please visit the Campus Orientation Programs webpage or email internationalorientation@ucsc.edu for assistance.
Getting to Santa Cruz

The majority of UC Santa Cruz international students arrive in California via one of the San Francisco Bay Area’s airports. Most students choose to fly into either San Francisco International Airport (SFO) or into San Jose International Airport (SJC).

Public Transit from SFO to Santa Cruz

UC Santa Cruz can be reached from SFO using a combination of BART, Caltrain, and the Highway 17 Express.

First, take BART from SFO’s International Terminal (Level 3) to Millbrae Station.

Take the Caltrain from Millbrae Station (in Zone 1) to San Jose’s Diridon Station (in Zone 4). At Diridon, board the Highway 17 Express Bus to Santa Cruz's Pacific Station.

At Pacific Station, you can take any UCSC bus route from Lane 1 to get to the campus, or you can take another bus to your final destination.

Santa Cruz Metro: http://www.scmtd.com

Fares vary, but generally you should expect to spend $17.00 per person to get to Santa Cruz from SFO.

Students should be aware that travel to Santa Cruz from San Francisco via public transit can take several hours, so please plan accordingly.
Public Transit from SJC to Santa Cruz

Students arriving at SJC will need to combine Caltrain, VTA, and bus travel in order to get to UC Santa Cruz.

First, exit Baggage Claim at SJC and go to the VTA #10 Airport Flyer pick-up location next to Terminal B.

Then, board the #10 bus to Caltrain’s Santa Clara Station.

At Santa Clara Station, board a Caltrain toward San Jose’s Diridon Station (Zone 4). It will be the second stop.

Once you arrive at Diridon, transfer to the Highway 17 Express Bus to Santa Cruz’s Pacific Station.

At Pacific Station, you can take any UCSC bus route from Lane 1 to get to the campus, or you can take another bus to your final destination.

VTA Airport Flyer: http://www.vta.org/
Caltrain: http://www.caltrain.com
Santa Cruz Metro: http://www.scmtd.com

Fares vary, but generally you should expect to spend $11.00 per person to get to Santa Cruz from SJC.

Students should be aware that like public transit from SFO, taking public transit from SJC to Santa Cruz could take 2-3 hours.

Other Transportation Options

Many students arriving at SFO or SJC may not want to use public transit to get to Santa Cruz. If this is the case, you can instead arrange to take a shuttle.

Airport shuttle providers that offer service to and from UC Santa Cruz include:

Getting Around UC Santa Cruz

Campus Transit

UCSC uses a campus bus system run by Transportation and Parking Services (TAPS). The two main routes are called the Loop and the Upper Campus. These white buses run on weekdays from about 7:30AM – 11:00PM and on weekends from about 6:00PM – 11:00PM. No fare is required; simply get on the bus. The Loop travels from UCSC’s main entrance through the entire campus. The Upper Campus only travels between the East and West Remote Parking Lots.

Riding late at night? TAPS also offers a late night bus to and from downtown called the Night Owl. For more information visit taps.ucsc.edu/buses-shuttles/night-owl.html.

Campus Parking

Cars on campus must have valid parking permits. These permits can be purchased from the TAPS Sales Office near the Lower Campus bus stop. Temporary metered parking is also available. Visit http://taps.ucsc.edu/parking for details.

Remember that if you do end up having a car in the U.S., always keep your vehicle registration and vehicle insurance in the car. Vehicle insurance is mandatory in the U.S.

Note: Students with freshman or sophomore standing who live in campus housing are not allowed to purchase a parking permit (except motorcycle permits) unless they have a compelling academic, family, or medical reason.

Thinking of getting a bike?

Santa Cruz is a great city for bicyclists. TAPS operates a Bike Program that includes a variety of services, such as a bike lending library, a bike co-op and maintenance, and information on bike routes throughout Santa Cruz.

The bike program also includes two popular morning bike shuttles for students that want to use their bike to commute to and from campus. These shuttles pick up both in downtown Santa Cruz and on the busy Mission Street. No fare is required, but you must have your student ID and your bike to board.

For more information about the bike program, visit taps.ucsc.edu/commute-options/bikes/index.html.
Getting Around Santa Cruz and the Bay Area

Most destinations in Santa Cruz and the Bay Area can be reached via public transportation using one or more of the Bay Area transportation companies or services. Making sense of the different services and different routes can be difficult. There are several free websites and smartphone apps that will plan the route for you by providing you an itinerary based on your location and destination. Three of the more popular are:

- Google Maps (also available as app)
  http://maps.google.com

- Transit 511 (also available as app)

- Routesy Bay Area (app)
  http://www.routesy.com

Santa Cruz Metro

The Santa Cruz Metro operates 5 routes that travel through campus to downtown and are a great way to get around Santa Cruz. A blue metro bus will come through campus about every 10 minutes on weekdays and every 30 minutes on weekends. Your student ID card is your bus pass. If you forget your card, fare is $2.00. For route maps and schedules, visit http://www.scmtd.com. This information is also posted at each bus stop.

A good thing to remember is that Routes 10, 15, and 16 are usually the fastest to get to downtown. Routes 19 and 20 will take longer, although they do have stops next to the beach and Boardwalk. All routes end at Santa Cruz’s Pacific Station except the 20D, which ends at Delaware Avenue.

Santa Cruz Metro also operates several routes around the rest of Santa Cruz, including to the Capitola Mall which has a variety of stores and restaurants. It also operates the Highway 17 Express bus that connects Santa Cruz to San Jose and Silicon Valley.

Student Car Rentals

Students allowed to drive can rent a car by the day or by the hour from a company called Zipcar. Cars are located on campus and in downtown, and auto insurance and gas are included in Zipcar’s rental fees. For more information, please visit either http://www.zipcar.com/ucsc or http://taps.ucsc.edu/airports-travel/zipcar.html.

Student Rideshares

UCSC operates a private rideshare program through Zimride, which provides an easy way to find if others on campus are going the same route you are. Students can either join a trip as drivers or passengers. For more information see http://www.zimride.com/ucsc or http://taps.ucsc.edu/airports-travel/zimride.html.
California and Beyond

Monterey County

Many students are interested in visiting Monterey and its surrounding areas, which include Big Sur, Pebble Beach, and Carmel. Monterey-Salinas Transit provides service to and around Monterey, and a bus leaves from Santa Cruz’s Pacific Station at limited times throughout the week. For information on fares and route schedules, please see their website at www.mst.org.

Traveling to East Bay Cities

East Bay cities include Fremont, Hayward, Oakland, Emeryville, Berkeley, and Richmond. These cities can be reached by traveling to Diridon Station and transferring to either a Capitol Corridor train or to VTA Route 180/181 to the Fremont BART station.

Traveling to Peninsula Cities

The Peninsula includes several cities, such as Santa Clara, Sunnyvale, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Redwood City, San Carlos, San Mateo, Millbrae, San Bruno, and of course San Francisco. Students traveling by public transit should take a Northbound Line/San Francisco Caltrain from Diridon Station to get to any of these cities. The cost will vary from $2.50 to $11, depending on your destination. The Caltrain system map is available at http://www.caltrain.com/stations/systemmap.html.

Amtrak
Amtrak provides rail service from San Jose’s Diridon Station to most of the U.S. Routes and fares can be found at www.amtrak.com.

Megabus
Megabus is a discounted bus service that provides daily transportation to and from Los Angeles and San Jose’s Diridon station. Fares and route schedules can be found at www.us.megabus.com.

Greyhound Bus
Greyhound has routes that pick up both at Santa Cruz’s Pacific Station and San Jose’s Diridon Station to various U.S. cities. Fares and route schedules can be found at www.greyhound.com.
Driver’s License

If you want to drive in California, you will need to go to the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) office to apply for a driver’s license.

Where: 4200 Capitola Road (by Capitola Mall)
Website: http://www.dmv.ca.gov/
Phone: (800) 777-0133
Office Hours: 8:00AM – 5:00PM

Be aware the DMV is notorious across the U.S. for long wait times. Even if you have an appointment, anticipate spending a few hours at the DMV.

How to Apply

If you are applying for a license, the general steps you need to follow are:

1. Wait at least 10 calendar days after you’ve arrived in the U.S.
2. Wait at least 2 business days after your SEVIS record has been registered.
3. Review the DMV’s website for detailed information on license applications.
4. Apply in person at a DMV for either a driving permit or driver’s license. Making an appointment is highly recommended.
5. Pay the $33 application fee.
6. Pass a written test. There are 36 questions and you can take it up to 3 times before you must restart the process.
7. Pass a behind-the-wheel driving test. This will require a separate appointment.

Social Security Numbers at the DMV

The DMV will ask for your SSN as part of the application process for a driver’s license, but an SSN is not required. Inform the DMV that you currently “are not eligible” for an SSN. The DMV official will instead verify your legal status in the U.S. using your immigration documents.

Documents You’ll Need to Apply

If you do not have a Social Security Number, you will need to present your immigration documents to a DMV official when applying for a permit or license:

- Original, signed UCSC I-20 or DS-2019
- Original passport
- Electronic I-94 printout

Do not bring copies. The DMV needs to see originals.

Problems with the DMV

If you encounter any problems at the DMV with your application, ask to speak with a supervisor at the office familiar with international students.

If a supervisor is not available, or you continue to have problems, contact an ISSS advisor for assistance.
Food & Grocery

On-Campus Dining

There are 5 dining halls located around campus that each provide cafeteria-style meals and do themed College Nights. In addition to these, there are several campus restaurants, coffee bars, and cafes. For a complete list, see http://dining.ucsc.edu.

If you’d like to see each dining hall’s weekly menu, visit http://nutrition.sa.ucsc.edu.

If you have purchased a meal plan or have Flexi Dollars, your UCSC student ID card functions as your meal pass. You can change your meal plan or add Flexi Dollars by logging into the Student Housing portal at http://studenthousing.ucsc.edu.

Major Grocery Stores

Safeway: 2111 Mission Street

Safeway has the widest selection of items and is the least expensive grocery store. However, it can be harder to get to and from the store without a car, since it is a few blocks from the major metro bus stops.

Trader Joe’s: 700 Front Street

Trader Joe’s has a wide selection of organic food, though it will be more expensive than Safeway. It can be easier to get to this store, since it is located downtown.

New Leaf: 1134 Pacific Ave; 1101 Fair Ave

New Leaf also offers a wide selection of organic food and produce. Like Trader Joe’s, it is also more expensive.

Farmer’s Markets

One of the most popular places to purchase food in Santa Cruz is at one of the local farmer’s markets held throughout the week:

Downtown: Wednesdays, 1:30PM-5:30PM
Corner of Cedar & Lincoln Streets

Westside: Saturdays, 9AM-1PM
Corner of Western & Mission

Farm Cart: Tuesdays & Fridays, 12PM-6PM
June to early November
UCSC Entrance, Bay & High Street

Most stands do not accept credit/debit cards, so make sure you are carrying cash!
Shopping

When you first arrive, you will likely need and want to buy inexpensive furniture, appliances, and household items. Some common places for students to purchase these are:

Capitola Mall http://www.shopcapitolamall.com
1855 41st Avenue, Capitola
Major shopping center that includes several department stores, clothing stores, restaurants, and shops.

Target http://www.target.com
41st Avenue, in Capitola Mall
Major retail store adjacent to Capitola Mall that sells a variety of items, including furniture.

Craigslist http://www.craiglist.org
Search under SF Bay Area – Santa Cruz for items being sold in Santa Cruz and the surrounding neighborhoods. You’ll likely have to pick up the items yourself. Most people will not deliver.

Costco http://www.costco.com
220 Sylvania Avenue, Santa Cruz
Discount warehouse store that sells items in bulk. You will need to buy a membership to enter the store.

Goodwill
204 Union Street, Downtown Santa Cruz
Cheap goods and clothing that have been donated.

Salvation Army
204 Union Street, Downtown Santa Cruz
Thrift store selling goods and clothing that have been donated.

Westfield Valley Fair Mall
2855 Stevens Creek Boulevard, Santa Clara
Major shopping center in Silicon Valley area that includes department stores, retail stores, and restaurants.

In addition to these, there are several other boutiques and retail stores along Pacific Avenue and 41st Avenue.

United States Postal Service (USPS)

USPS is responsible for providing regular mail service to the entire U.S. It is the most common and least expensive way to send mail.

What Postage Do I Need?

If you are sending mail within the United States, check http://postcalc.usps.com for a domestic mail price calculator. If you are sending mail internationally, check http://ircalc.usps.com for an international mail price calculator.

Mail Delivery / Pick-Up

USPS mail is delivered to your home address once a day on Monday-Saturday. There is no mail pick-up or delivery service on Sundays or federal holidays. If you have mail to send, they will collect it from your mailbox or from the blue drop boxes located throughout campus and the area. Mail placed in these drop boxes must be completely ready to send, with the correct postage amount.

UCSC Self-Service Kiosk Baytree Bookstore

UCSC has a kiosk on the ground floor of the Baytree Bookstore, just inside the entrance. You can find shipping supplies here, as well as print any required postage and labels for USPS mail. The kiosk also has a drop box for non-international mail. Non-USPS should not be taken to the kiosk. You should instead take it to the company’s off-campus office.

Santa Cruz Main Post Office 850 Front Street

If your mail cannot be placed in a drop box, such as international mail or large packages, you can visit the post office in Downtown Santa Cruz. They are open Monday-Friday and can help you with outgoing mail, packaging items, and completing a customs declaration.

Courier/Express Mail

If you need overnight or quick delivery of a letter or package, you can contact one of the following services:

Need to ship luggage home?

Rather than transport several pieces of luggage home, some students decide to ship their suitcase and/or several boxes home instead.

Although this can be expensive, it may be less expensive than airline and travel costs. If you’re interested, the courier/express mail services above should be able to help you. Unfortunately, Santa Cruz’s Post Office does not have the capacity to ship suitcases.
Cultural Differences

Adapting to life in your new environment can be a difficult process, but it doesn’t have to be too difficult. One of the best ways you can have a successful intercultural experience is by learning as much as possible about the culture of your new environment. Though not every culture fits neatly into simple categories, there are some elements of American culture that apply in most situations.

Individualism

In general, people in the U.S. are very individualistic. People view themselves first and foremost as individuals than as a member of a family, community, or nation. They value being self-reliant and independent, and tend to distance themselves psychologically and emotionally from others.

Time

Most people in the U.S. view time as ‘monochronic,’ meaning that specific things are done in a specific order and at specific times. Time is organized and set aside for certain tasks or purposes, rather than doing several things at once. Punctuality is heavily valued. Arriving on time for appointments, meetings, and classes is expected in American culture. Many Americans actually try to arrive a little early.

Equality

U.S. culture strives to be egalitarian, and values equality. For the most part, little attention is paid to status and people are valued for who they are and not which family they may come from. Some hierarchies in the U.S. may seem less important or prevalent than the hierarchies in your home country. This also applies to differences in gender. Men and women are viewed as equals in U.S. culture and given equal rights.
Communication

Communication in the U.S. is very direct. People usually try to communicate something very specific as quickly and as detailed as possible. They will pay less attention to nonverbal messages and usually take statements at face value. You’ll also find that Americans maintain eye contact and nod during conversation to show attentiveness. Many Americans will also “speak with their hands,” gesturing during conversation.

Friendship

The concept of friendship varies from culture to culture. In some, friendship is seen as a very deep and long-lasting relationship. It is based on love and respect, and requires obligation. In U.S. culture, friendship is oftentimes much more casual and divided into “friends in class,” “friends at work,” and “friends at home.” Many international visitors have reported that American students and scholars are friendly and easy to approach, but more difficult to really get to know.

Personal Space

You may find that Americans require more personal space than people in your home country do. Typically Americans will stand at least an arm’s length away from each other in social settings. If you try to get closer to an American during a conversation, they may feel you are “invading their personal space” and try to move away. Try to avoid physical contact when speaking, as this can be too intimate for acquaintances.
Cultural Adjustments

Coping with Cultural Differences

The following tips may help you cope with some of the difficulties you might experience as a result of cultural differences.

Forget “good” and “bad”

One important thing to remember when faced with cultural differences is that cultural differences are just differences. Try not to place a qualitative judgment on something just because it is different than how things are done in your culture. It’s not good or bad or better or worse; it’s just different.

Be curious, learn by doing

One of the best ways learn about a new culture is to experience it. Be open to doing and trying new things. Be curious about the ways things are done in your new culture. Ask questions.

Laugh!

Laughter is the best medicine. You will make mistakes trying to find your way in your new culture. One of the best ways to deal with your mistakes is to learn to laugh at them. It will help you learn and others will respond to your laughter with friendliness.

Depression and Homesickness

It is common to suffer from depression and or homesickness during your time in the U.S. The tips above can help you, but if you feel that you are suffering from depression it is important to seek help.

Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS) is a part of the UCSC campus that provides a wide range of services including counseling, group counseling, workshops, and psychiatric help. Visits are kept confidential. Visit their website to find a list of everything that they provide, as well as other off-campus resources: http://caps.ucsc.edu/index.html.
ON-CAMPUS CARE:

Student Health Center (SHC)
Students should visit the Student Health Center, located across the street from Colleges 9 and 10, for all non-emergency health care.

The SHC provides a range of services, from routine medical appointments to women’s health care to health clearances for sports or travel. They can also refer you to an off-campus doctor, if necessary.

For more information about their services:

Doctors on Duty
615 Ocean Street (at Dakota Avenue)
(831) 425-7991

With all these locations, please make sure to ask if your insurance will be accepted. Be aware that you’ll probably need to pay what’s called a “co-pay.” This is a payment required from the insured person each time they receive a medical service.

FOR IMMEDIATE CARE IN AN EMERGENCY DIAL 911

LOCAL HOSPITAL (NEAREST EMERGENCY ROOM):

Dominican Hospital
1555 Soquel Drive
(831) 462-7700 (main office)
(831) 462-7710 (ER)

In the U.S., ER care and/or taking an ambulance is expensive and should be used only for true emergencies involving severe illnesses and injuries. If you have a minor illness, it is better to first visit the SHC or an off-campus urgent care clinic. However, if you are ever in doubt, do not hesitate to go to the ER.
Support & Crisis Services

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE:

In the U.S., any form of physical or verbal abuse towards a spouse or partner is completely unacceptable. Not only is it unacceptable but also illegal. The following support services are available in Santa Cruz for individuals in this situation:

Unlike universities you may be used to, UC Santa Cruz divides student advising among several groups. Campus advisors address various subjects and have very different areas of expertise.

Your ISSS advisor can help you with any immigration or cultural questions and concerns you may have, as well as identify campus resources. In addition to your ISSS advisor, you will have at least two academic advisors that will work with you throughout your academic career. It is important to understand what each type of advisor does so you know who to see when you need help.

College Academic Advisor or Preceptor

These “generalist” advisors are assigned to undergraduates at admission and are located in the 10 residential colleges. They can help you understand campus-wide requirements such as general education, academic progress, and time-to-degree policies. They can also help you identify majors or courses that could be a good fit. College advisors or preceptors will also be able to help you if you need to discuss enrollment or leaves of absence.

Graduate Advisor or Coordinator

These advisors for graduates are dedicated to your specific program. They can help you understand degree requirements, as well as enrollment logistics. They also assist with orientation programming for new students and with seminars throughout the year. This advisor will also assist you with any requests for leaves of absence or employment authorization.

To learn who your graduate advisor/coordinator is, please look to your department’s website.

Major or Minor Advisor

These advisors for undergraduates focus on a specific program. They can help you understand major qualification and graduation requirements, as well as academic planning and declaration for the major. They can also help you identify faculty mentors and learning enrichment opportunities in your field. Students are assigned a major/minor advisor once they officially declare the major.

Other Advisors

Career Advisors

These generalist advisors can assist you with exploring career options, finding internship and employment opportunities, and applying to graduate and professional school. They can also assist you with strategies for writing resumes and interviewing.

Services for Transfer and Reentry (STARS) Advisors

These advisors provide additional academic and personal support for transfer, reentry, and readmitted students. They can also assist with transition concerns, academic support networks, and post-graduation planning.

To learn who your STARS advisor is, please look to your department’s website.

Learning Support Services (LSS) is the major office involved in academic support for students at UCSC. They are located in Room 221 of the Academic Resources Center (ARC) near McHenry Library. Their office collaborates with UCSC Student Affairs to support academic success.

Group Tutoring Sessions

http://www2.ucsc.edu/lss/tutorial_services.shtml

Learning Support Services offers content-related tutoring in a variety of classes each quarter. Students must sign up online and commit to 1 hour per week of tutoring.

Tutoring is normally done through group sessions scheduled in advance. All tutors are undergraduate students that have received a B or better in the class they’re tutoring.

Drop-In Writing Tutoring

LSS offers one-on-one drop-in writing tutoring at the ARC to all students throughout the academic year. Students should sign up for a 30-minute appointment by calling LSS at (831) 459-4333 before 2:00PM the day of the session.

Modified Supplemental Instruction (MSI)

http://www2.ucsc.edu/lss/msi.shtml

MSI gives students the opportunity to learn together in small groups led by advanced Student Learning Assistants. MSI is guaranteed study/learning time facilitated by someone who earned a B or better in the class.

MSI begins during the second week of the quarter. Pay attention during the first classes, as this is usually when professors will announce if MSI is available for their class. You can go to MSI any time during the quarter, even if you haven’t attended regularly.

Drop-In Math Tutoring

LSS offers drop-in math tutoring at McHenry Library to all students throughout the academic year. Courses supported include MATH 2, 3, 11A, 11B, 19A, 19B, 22, 23A, and 23B.

If you are taking one of these classes and need help, consider going to the tutoring session! You don’t need an appointment to get help, just come by.

Academic Excellence Program (ACE)

http://ace.ucsc.edu/

ACE is an academic support program dedicated to students earning bachelor’s degrees in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields.

ACE brings STEM students together in learning sessions supplemented by the large math and science lectures. Students work in a team to learn concepts. Students meet twice a week throughout the quarter, as well as attend a small peer-mentoring session.
Recreation and Sports

The Office of Physical Education, Recreation, and Sports (OPERS) operates UCSC’s on-campus fitness center and organizes recreational trips, intramural sports, and Physical Education classes.

The main OPERS Complex near Cowell College includes the Wellness Center, a 50-meter pool, basketball court, tennis courts, and racquetball courts. You can rent equipment or lockers from the OPERS office, as well as drop in on group exercise classes. You will need your UCSC student ID to enter the OPERS Complex.

Outside the OPERS Complex are the East Field, Lower East Field, track, and a beach volleyball court. The West Field Gym, across campus near College 8, also has several courts.

Recreation Trips and Classes

OPERS will publish a guide of activities and classes just before the start of each quarter online at http://recreation.ucsc.edu. Enrollment takes place online. Spots fill up quickly, so be prepared!

P.E. and Group Exercise Classes

Some of the most popular offerings from OPERS are P.E. and group exercise classes. These are usually held in the OPERS Complex and include classes such as kickboxing, yoga, and zumba. See http://fitlife.ucsc.edu/ for information.

Sports & Intramural Clubs

UCSC is an NCAA Division III school, and also operates competitive and non-competitive student-run sports clubs. If you’re interested in joining, please visit http://www.goslugs.com and http://opers.ucsc.edu/sports-clubs for a list of sports and clubs, how to join, and more.

Community Boating Center

Along with the OPERS Complex, UCSC operates the Community Boating Center at Santa Cruz Harbor. Here you can take sailing, kayaking, and rowing classes and tours. It is also where the sailing team, rowing club, and boating club meet to head out onto Monterey Bay. Please visit http://boating.ucsc.edu for more information.
